

Adjusting Images Using White Balance

The white balance adjustment can be found in the Develop Module in Lightroom - WB. Simply change the menu setting from 'As Shot' to 'Custom' and play around with the Temperature setting until you find the balance you like.

You can also adjust the white balance in Camera Raw (including for jpeg images) and using the Camera Raw filter in Photoshop.

Here is 'Before' and 'After' to show what is possible. I think it works particularly well on Deer where the contrast isn't too good.

BEFORE

AFTER

Martin Hancock